

THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

The summer dullness which several weeks ago set upon the fashionable part of the town was more than ever last week, when few of the members of the gay world were seen in the places usually frequented by them at this period of the year. For some unknown reason there was a singularly generous representation of well-known fashionable people at luncheon in Delmonico's on Wednesday, but they were not observed in the vast audience which thronged the Madison Square Garden that night. Departures from town on the afternoon of that day must have been numerous. Summer gaiety has begun at Newport in so hearty a manner that it must remove all thought as to the brilliancy of the season and its advantages to the socially ambitious soul. Last week there was a round of luncheons and dinner parties and coaching parties, while the attendance at the Casino dances demonstrated that dancing is not a thing of the past at the City by the Sea. Nor would the announcements to enjoy this style of diversion prove claim to be in disfavor. The Casino dances have thus far in the season developed into dressy affairs, as was amply shown the other night, when Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, Mrs. William Jay, Miss Poole, Miss Cran, Mrs. George B. de Forest and Miss Potter appeared in elaborate gowns. Among others present were Miss Herbert, Miss Magill, Mrs. Lanier, Mrs. Paul A. Andrews, Thomas H. Howard, Mrs. Lansing Zabriskie, Mrs. S. T. Swan, Center Hitchcock, E. N. Taller, the Misses Dresser, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Harriman, Mr. T. Davies, Jr., Julian Potter, Mrs. C. N. Beach, Miss Reach, Samuel Dexter, Richard Potter, C. A. Baldwin, Miss Cushing, C. C. Baldwin, Miss Sally Hargous and her fiance, Duncan Elliott. Miss Hargous's marriage to Mr. Elliott will, according to the young woman's own saying, take place in Newport early in September. It will be a quiet wedding, but that it will be a pretty one goes without saying. Of the several weddings to take place at Newport within the next few months, that of Miss Mabel Marquand, daughter of Henry G. Marquand, and Henry Galbraith Ward will be the first. The date set for the ceremony, which it is said will be performed in the home of the bride's father, is Thursday, August 15.

An engagement which was formally announced at Beverly Farms, Mass., and which has been a topic of much comment in Newport drawing-rooms, is that of Miss Leila Eustis, a daughter of Mrs. Celestine Eustis of Washington, and niece of ex-Senator Eustis, to Thomas Hitchcock, Jr., of this city. Miss Eustis is one of the finest horsewomen in this country, and she is said to be possessed of great wealth. Mr. Hitchcock, Jr., is well known in polite society, is master of the Meadow Brook Hunt, one of the best-known cross-country riders in the United States, and an accomplished polo player. Center Hitchcock, brother of the bridegroom-elect, gave an elaborate dinner party at the Casino the other evening. The table at which the guests sat was handsomely decked with flowers, and it was set on the platters of the grill-room.

Mrs. Astor gave the first of her large dinner parties last night at her beautiful home, "Beechwood." Mrs. Astor's first entertainment of the present season was a luncheon, which took place last Monday, and was in honor of her daughter, Mrs. John C. Drayton, who, with Mr. Drayton, has been a guest at her mother's house for several days. Mrs. Astor announced a dance for the evening of Monday, August 24. Miss Frederick W. Vanderbilt will give a small dance at Rough Point on August 10. There will be several other dances next month and any number of dinners, from which the guests will go on to the dances. It is not unlikely that Mrs. Henry Clews will mark her return to the gay world by giving an entertainment which will approach the dignity of a ball. Mrs. George Peabody Weir, Mrs. William C. Whitney, Mrs. Theodore A. Havemeyer, Mrs. John W. Ells and Mrs. Robert Goetz are also down for dances which will be features of the coming month. On Friday evening Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Taller gave an elaborate dinner party in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lawrence Burrott at their summer home, Sheld Place, Ohearn Point.

The square table about which the guests sat was handsomely dressed with roses and ferns. Mr. and Mrs. Taller's guests were Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wysong, Mr. and Mrs. W. Watt Sherman, Mrs. William Astor, Ward McAllister, and Mrs. Henry Clews. Mrs. Charles H. Baldwin, Mrs. Heber R. Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. Clement C. Moore, Mrs. E. F. Knowlton and Mr. and Mrs. G. Mead Tooker entertained at dinner; Mrs. George H. Warren and Mrs. Gordon McKay gave luncheons on the same day. Mrs. Adolph Laedeburg, who has been for several days the guest of Mrs. Henry Clews, has decided to forego her board at Westbury, L. I., for the month of August at least. She has leased the John G. Weaver villa in Berkeley-avenue, Newport, for that month. It is said that Mr. Clews will build a large addition upon his house.

A welcome announcement is made by Miss Leah, who will open her season of weekly receptions with music on Thursday, July 30. A recital with music is shortly to be given by Miss William C. Schermerhorn, who is occupying Minard cottage No. 2, and has just now as her guests Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Dutish of Clinton Place, the city. Mrs. C. Delaplaine is visiting her daughter, Miss James Hyde Beckman. Harry Weston is also a guest of Mrs. Beckman. Dr. and Mrs. William Appleton, who are spending the summer in New-London, have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. George B. DeForest. John G. Farman was for a few days last week the guest of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Vanderbilt at Rough Point. Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Havemeyer have leased the Stockton cottage in Bellevue-avenue.

The friends of Brockholst Cutting will rejoice to learn that he is now out of danger, and there are strong hopes of his recovery from the attack of pneumonia from which he has been suffering for some time. While the foggy, damp weather at Newport last week was considerably against him, his condition improved through it all.

There is much quiet entertainment done at Lenox, where the gay world at present is more especially interested in driving, boating, archery and tennis than any other form of amusement. Teams have been wonderfully popular with the younger element, and the beautiful grounds of the Lenox Club are daily the scene of some excellent play. In former seasons it has been the custom of the club to hold a tournament, but a departure from this practice is not unlikely this summer. Instead of a tournament it is probable that a handicap tournament will be the method of the club will be set up. An exhibition of professional tennis-playing is also likely to be one of the features of the season. Several dinner parties were given last week, including one by Mr. and Mrs. William D. Stoddard at Elm Court, another by Mr. and Mrs. Alexander, and a third by Mr. Fred Neilson, who occupies a cottage.

The feature of the evening, with the young people at least, was the second meeting this season of the dancing class organized by Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wysong.

The programme for the garden. Theodore Thomas' orchestra is gaining in popularity, even at this late day, and some of the largest audiences of the season at the Madison Square Garden have assembled there within the last week. The Garden is an attractive place on the warm nights, and it is not to be despised on the cool ones. The concerts are so arranged as to please all kinds of tastes—all kinds of good tastes, that is, and the marks of appreciation are liberal and not to be mistaken. Another popular programme will be given to-night, as follows:

MISS COGHLAN'S LONDON UNIFORM. Miss Rose Coghlan has come to New-York almost the last week, from her country place at Fort Hamilton, to complete the arrangements for her production of Leopold Jordan's new comedy, "Dowry's Dilemma," which will be seen at the New Park Theatre on August 24. The engagement is for three weeks. She will soon receive from London the uniform of a Lieutenant of the 6th Dragoons, which she will wear in the second act of the play. The military trappings for her horse, which she will ride in this act, have also been imported from London. Miss Coghlan is determined that the details in connection with the production shall be as nearly perfect as it is possible to have them. John T. Sullivan, William Redmond, Thomas Whiffen, Edward Peppin, John S. Marbles, Alfred Williams, Miss Helen Russell, Miss Marianne Dixville, Miss Adele Palma and Miss Ethel Weeks complete the company. The rehearsals will begin on August 1.

The regiment has turned out a large number of men to march in the annual parade which is to take place in September. Several debutantes will be introduced at Lenox before long. They are Miss Cleoane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cleoane, and her maid, Miss Shepard, and Miss Margaret Cleoane, with daughter-in-law Bertha and nieces of Mrs. Indley Leigh. A wedding of which the fashionable world at home and abroad is anxiously awaiting the details is that of Miss Ethel Forbes-Leith and Captain Hugh Haydon, son of Sir Hugh Haydon, Knight of Slane, Ireland, on Wednesday next. The church ceremony will be followed by a breakfast at the London home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Forbes-Leith. According to the original plan, Mr. and Mrs. Indley Leigh will be at the wedding. A number of prominent guests are to be present.

EVIDENCE ABOUT THE WALLA WALLA LYNNING. Walla Walla, Wash., July 18.—The court-martial of Colonel Compton, continued yesterday. The principal witness examined was Prosecuting Attorney H. S. Blodford, who stated that he, in company with Sheriff McFarland, called Colonel Compton early on the evening Hunt was lynched, and asked him to keep the soldiers at the post. To this the colonel answered he would as soon think of members of the Episcopal Church sacking the church as to think his soldiers would attack the jail. Blodford left the garnison without the impression that no aid could be obtained from Colonel Compton that night. He asked the sheriff to place an extra guard over the jail after the lynching. Blodford wrote to the Secretary of War, stating that the situation intended to kill two more gamblers. His examination was long but did not shake his evidence. To-day several company commanders will be examined and interesting evidence is expected.

AMERICAN CONSULS IN GERMANY WILL TAKE STEPS TO OVERCOME PREJUDICES.

HOW LORD SALISBURY PROTECTED ENGLISH INTERESTS—GERMAN VIEWS OF THE FRENCH CRISIS—NO ATTEMPT ON THE CZAR'S LIFE.

Copyright, 1891, by The New-York Associated Press.

Berlin, July 18.—Mr. Edwards, the American Consul in Germany to a conference in this city with Herr Wermer, the Imperial Commissioner to the World's Fair to be held in Chicago. The consular body will also meet the American committee which is now in England. Numerous public receptions are being arranged to be held during the presence of the committee in Germany. Mr. Edwards hopes through the consular conference and public meetings to dispel the German misconceptions in regard to the severity of the McKinley law. Consular statistics on the operation of the tariff will be published in order to show that the McKinley law is not inspired by hostility to foreign trade, but that it is mainly intended to encourage American manufacturers. Mr. Edwards proposes to facilitate the sources of information concerning German industries. If the committee were to visit every industrial centre much time would be absorbed with probably less satisfactory results than if the information were close at hand and readily accessible. The great commercial points, such as Hamburg, Chemnitz and Frankfort, will be visited, but having the focus of information here will enable much to be accomplished in the shortest time. Herr von Berlepsch, the Prussian Minister of Finance, will be the first Minister to receive the committee. The members of the committee will subsequently be received by Herr Miguel, Minister of Justice, Chancellor von Caprivi, and probably the Emperor will give them an audience.

Lord SALISBURY'S SHREWD DIPLOMACY.

Lord Salisbury's adhesion to the Triple Alliance appears to have been made with due regard to the protection of English interests in Egypt and India. The conferences of the Emperor and Herr von Biehler, Prussian Minister of State and Imperial Secretary of State for Foreign Affairs, with Lord Salisbury have materially altered the whole course of German foreign policy. Only a partial indication of the drift of the understanding reached at Hatfield House has transpired, but enough is known to suggest that Lord Salisbury obtained assurances from the Emperor that the Franco-Russian projects against England's possessions in the East will be met with open German support. The Franco-Russian project against England's possessions in the East will be met with open German support. The members of the committee will subsequently be received by Herr Miguel, Minister of Justice, Chancellor von Caprivi, and probably the Emperor will give them an audience.

KILLED BY HER REJECTED SUITOR.

Hanover, N. H., July 18.—As Miss Christie Warden, a widow, had sent an ultimatum to her mother, her sister Fannie and Louise Goodell, was returning on foot to her home one mile from the village, at a late hour last night.

Frank Almy, thirty years old, jumped into the road in front of them, and, seizing Christie by the arm and saying "I want you." The mother and sister attempted to defend her. Almy fired at them but missed. They ran for assistance. Then Almy discharged his victim into the bushes from the road and shot her twice through the head, one shot tearing out her left eye. When help arrived the girl was dead, and her body was stripped of nearly every article of clothing. Almy had fled. Miss Warden was a beautiful and estimable young woman, twenty-five years old, a graduate of the State Normal School, and a popular teacher. Almy was a former employee of her father and his attorney to whom he had been repelled. She was the daughter of Andrew A. Warden, a wealthy farmer. It was midnight before the news reached the village. Sheriff Foster sent out searching parties in all directions. Almy is about five feet ten inches tall, has a dark mustache and is of pleasing address and well educated. The father of the murdered girl offers a reward of $500 for the capture of the murderer. The town will undoubtedly offer an additional reward.

NO INJUSTICE DONE BY CHICKASAWS.

St. Louis, Mo., July 18.—Advices from the Chickasaw Nation say that members of a committee of prominent men of the Nation, who were recently appointed to ascertain the truth or falsity of reports of wholesale ejectment by Indian authorities of whites and of others from the Nation, have finished their observations and report that they saw nothing done either by the Indian militia or by United States Agent Bennett which was not wholly in accordance with the sentiments of the substantial citizens and non-citizens of the section through which they passed. No person or family had been sent out of the Territory who has shown the least disposition to obey the law, and no unnecessary hardship has been imposed upon anybody. The report widely circulated that two members of the committee had been arrested and imprisoned was entirely false and was the work of "boomers."

THE SUMMER LAWS AT ASBURY PARK.

Ashbury Park, N. J., July 18.—At the camp of the National Cordage Company, the 18th Regt. of the New Jersey National Guard, the 12th Regiment returned to this city last night after having taken the train at the State Camp at Phillipsburg. The regiment was relieved by the 8th Regiment and at half-past 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon embarked in the steamer Rochester and arrived at West Fifty-ninth-st., a little after 6 o'clock, where the guardmen were warmly greeted by friends and relatives who had assembled on the pier.

COORDAGE COMPANIES AT WAR.

Boston, July 18.—The National Cordage Company has placed attachments on the property of the Softail Cordage Company, the Pearson Cordage Company and the New Bedford Cordage Company. This action on the part of the National Cordage Company is the result of a controversy in regard to claims growing out of the breaking of contracts between it and all the Eastern cordage mills. The National Cordage Company sent to the regiments at the camp until Friday, when he was compelled to return to New-York. The men expressed themselves greatly pleased with their week's outing, while their bronzed faces and generally healthy appearance plainly told of the "good time" they had.
